ACCOUNTING INSTRUCTOR RECEIVES HONOR

NEOSHO, MO – Carolyn Strauch, Crowder College Lead Accounting Instructor, is this year’s recipient of The Governor’s Award for Excellence in Teaching. This award is voted on by the faculty of the college.

Strauch has been a dedicated business instructor at Crowder College for 15 and a half years. She holds a Master’s Degree in Education and is a Certified Public Accountant. She has taught a variety of business and accounting courses and has been the Lead Accounting Instructor for many years. She was a pioneer with online instruction and has taught traditional, flex, ITV, and online courses. Carolyn has a passion for teaching accounting and is always looking for innovative ways to teach.

While accepting the award Strauch said “I want to express my gratitude towards the Crowder family and especially the faculty for honoring me. I have been extremely blessed to work in a career combining my two loves – teaching and accounting. It has been a pleasure to be a member of the Business Department which is a tight-knit group with a special bond. The Business Department members are very supportive and encouraging of one another. We strive for innovation and excellence in teaching. I also want to thank my two daughters and family for their support over the years.”
