

February 6, 2012

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

OFFICE OF PUBLIC INFORMATION

CROWDER VET TECH STUDENTS TAKE TOP HONORS

NEOSHO, MO – A team of Crowder College Veterinary Technology students took 1st place in the Missouri Veterinary Technician Student Academia Bowl held at the Annual Convention in St. Charles, MO, January 28. Teams from all seven programs in the state competed. This is the 2nd year in a row Crowder has earned top honors.

“We are very proud of these and all of our students who work so hard in the program” stated Dr. Stephanie Watson-Bruto, DVM, Program Director/Instructor.

The Crowder College Veterinary Technology program is a 78 credit hour program which is fully accredited by the American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA) and prepares students for careers as veterinary technicians. This program is a selective admission program with applications being taken in the spring for students to enter in the fall.

###

Attached please find a picture of the participants (L-R): Meg Storey (Joplin, MO), Mandie Matthewson (Neosho, MO), Tiffany Edwards (Joplin, MO), Jessi Medeiros (Joplin, MO), and Allison Moret (Cairo, MO)

For more information on the Veterinary Technology program go to:

<http://www.crowder.edu/SCIENCE-TECHNOLOGY/agriculture/vet-tech/index.htm> or contact Dr. Stephanie

Watson (e-mail: stephaniewatson@crowder.edu)