CROSSWHITE RECEIVES NEWS MEDIA AWARD

Branson, Missouri – Thursday, November 6. The Missouri Community College Association presented Eric Crosswhite, morning anchor and reporter for KSNF-TV's Local News Today, with the News Media Award at a ceremony in Branson today. The award was presented in recognition of Crosswhite's coverage of events at Crowder College and of the station's long-time support of the college.

This year marked MCCA's fiftieth annual convention. Association members celebrated the milestone by hosting several former community college leaders at the convention, including Dr. Norman Myers, founding president of Ozarks Technical Community College; Dr. Don Shook, founding president of East Central College, St. Charles Community College, and St. Charles Community College; and Dr. Jim Kellerman, former MCCA executive director.

The Missouri Community College Association is a statewide organization through which Missouri's community colleges work together to advance common agendas. MCCA provides advocacy, education, information, and networking opportunities in service of the state's 5,700 community college faculty, staff, administrators, and trustees.
