Crowder to Offer Technical School Camp

Neosho, MO – The Crowder College Technical Education Center (CTEC) is offering a career exploration camp as a summer option for students attending one of our area schools.

Students grades 6-8 attending Neosho, East Newton, Seneca, and Diamond will have the opportunity to attend CTEC during summer school. The student will be able to choose four of the following programs: Auto Mechanics, Construction, Health Science, Criminal Justice, and Alternative Energy. Each week the student will explore one of their selected programs with hands-on and classroom teaching. Math and Language Arts will be included in the classroom teaching to assist with summer school needs.

“Students are deciding career paths at an earlier age, so we thought this would provide younger ones an opportunity to see a variety of choices,” stated David Webber, Director of Career & Technical Education.

The area sending schools will bus students to Crowder and back to their respective school district location during summer school hours to make this opportunity available.

For more information students may contact their school counselor or CTEC at 417.455.5596.
